

Michelle Marshall

Michelle Marshall's background for the past 20 years has been in education. This has included specialising in the areas early childhood, special education and literacy. Michelle has taught overseas and in both regional and rural settings. Michelle currently works with undergraduate teachers at two universities and with the School Curriculum and Standards Authority.

She is an active community member and is the President of the local playgroup and has a strong passion for assisting local government schools to excel. The focus of her Master's in Education was researching how full service schools can provide a partnership between a school and its community.

In her role on the board she hopes to assist in making Mount Pleasant a school of choice in the local area to meet the community's needs.
