

Sahara in Africa

In the Sahara in Africa, 319 million people worry about getting enough water. These people can't wash, clean themselves and that's not good.

People like them have to walk 3.7 miles to get their water which takes three hours to get there.

The Story

There was a very poor family and they had dirt water, not clean water so the little girl drank dirty water. Three days later she died. Imagine if you were like that. Let's try and stop it.

What could you do to help?

I'm going to try and get a donation box and try and get them some fresh water and someone to help.

What if you were like them? How can you help? Do you think it is fair that we get to go to the shops and buy stuff and they're stuck searching for water and trying to survive?

How can you help?

1. By caring
2. By donating
3. By showing you care
4. Help, just help!

By Hannah Simms

Year 4 – Mount Pleasant Primary School

Link Why Water Matters <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=TPVdF103Ohg>

Why Water Matters - A Story from
Sierra Leone | Sport Relief 2012

www.youtube.com

Find out how something as simple as having clean water can make the world of difference to a child's life, education and entire future. Enter The Mile: http://www ...
